Supplemental ESL II

Reading Literature/Informational Text and Informative/Explanatory Writing

Grades 4/5: Unit 4
(2.5-3.4)
Supplemental English as a Second Language consists of developing reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills. During Supplemental ESL instruction, students will learn to use reading and writing strategies to help them become effective English language readers and writers. ESL teachers will use the appropriate leveled language objectives to build lessons for ELLs, which reflects what is covered in the general education program. In this way, all teachers work on the same Student Learning Objectives connected to the Common Core standards. The design of language objectives are based on the alignment of the World-Class Instructional Design Assessment (WIDA) Consortium’s English Language Development (ELD) standards with the Common Core State Standards (CCSS). WIDA’s ELD standards advance academic language development across content areas, ultimately leading to academic achievement for English learners. As English learners are progressing through the six developmental linguistic stages, this course will assist all teachers working with English learners to appropriately identify the language needed to meet the requirements of the content standard. At the same time, the language objectives recognize the cognitive demand required to complete educational tasks. The teachers will instruct students using the workshop model philosophy with the use of the “I DO, WE DO, YOU DO” method of instruction. Other skills such as grammar, vocabulary, listening, and speaking are infused in the exploration of effective reading and writing. The Common Core State Standards are designed to provide a clear understanding of what students are expected to learn, providing teachers and parents the knowledge of what they need to do to help them. The standards are designed to be robust and relevant to the real world, reflecting the information and skills that our young learners need for success in college and careers. It is our goal to establish a community of learners to become productive citizens in society striving towards pursuing their life-long goals. Through an enriching and rigorous education and with on-going support, our students will be fully prepared for the future to compete successfully in the global economy.

Career Ready Practices

Career Ready Practices describe the career-ready skills that all educators in all content areas should seek to develop in their students. They are practices that have been linked to increase college, career, and life success. Career Ready Practices should be taught and reinforced in all career exploration and preparation programs with increasingly higher levels of complexity and expectation as a student advances through a program of study.

- CRP1. Act as a responsible and contributing citizen and employee.
- CRP2. Apply appropriate academic and technical skills.
- CRP3. Attend to personal health and financial well-being.
- CRP4. Communicate clearly and effectively and with reason.
- CRP5. Consider the environmental, social and economic impacts of decisions.
- CRP6. Demonstrate creativity and innovation.
- CRP7. Employ valid and reliable research strategies.
- CRP8. Utilize critical thinking to make sense of problems and persevere in solving them.
- CRP9. Model integrity, ethical leadership and effective management.
- CRP10. Plan education and career paths aligned to personal goals.
- CRP11. Use technology to enhance productivity.
- CRP12. Work productively in teams while using cultural global competence.

</table>
| 6- Reaching | - Specialized or technical language reflective of the content areas at grade level
- A variety of sentence lengths of varying linguistic complexity in extended oral or written discourse as required by the specified grade level
- Oral or written communication in English comparable to proficient English peers |
| 5- Bridging | - Specialized or technical language of the content areas
- A variety of sentence lengths of varying linguistic complexity in extended oral or written discourse, including stories, essays or reports
- Oral or written language approaching comparability to that of proficient English peers when presented with grade level material. |
| 4- Expanding | - Specific and some technical language of the content areas
- A variety of sentence lengths of varying linguistic complexity in oral discourse or multiple, related sentences or paragraphs
- Oral or written language with minimal phonological, syntactic or semantic errors that may impede the communication, but retain much of its meaning, when presented with oral or written connected discourse, with sensory, graphic or interactive support |
| 3- Developing | - General and some specific language of the content areas
- Expanded sentences in oral interaction or written paragraphs
- Oral or written language with phonological, syntactic or semantic errors that may impede the communication, but retain much of its meaning, when presented with oral or written, narrative or expository descriptions with sensory, graphic or interactive support |
| 2- Beginning | - General language related to the content area
- Phrases or short sentences
- Oral or written language with phonological, syntactic, or semantic errors that often impede of the communication when presented with one to multiple-step commands, directions, or a series of statements with sensory, graphic or interactive support |
| 1- Entering | - Pictorial or graphic representation of the language of the content areas
- Words, phrases or chunks of language when presented with one-step commands directions, WH-, choice or yes/no questions, or statements with sensory, graphic or interactive support |

Notes:
- Differentiated instruction strategies are tailored to accommodate students' individual needs.
- Time/General strategies include extra time, adjusted assignments, timelines, communication systems, and lecture notes.
- Processing strategies focus on extra response time, clarification, and breaks.
- Comprehension strategies emphasize precise directions, manageable tasks, immediate feedback, and multi-sensory learning.
- Recall strategies include checklists, graphic organizers, and visual resources.
- Assistive technology includes computer/whiteboard, tape recorder, spell-checker, and audio-taped books.
- Tests/Quizzes/Grading strategies offer extended time, study guides, and read directions aloud.
- Behavior/Attention strategies ensure a consistent routine and frequent feedback.
- Organization strategies include daily planners, agendas, and note-taking assistance.
Interdisciplinary Connections

Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

- Science: Part of this novel takes place in Wonka’s chocolate factory when the lucky recipients of the golden ticket have the opportunity to visit. Have students see how chocolate is made using these video clips. You can then have them complete a flow chart illustrating the steps in the process of making chocolate. A comparison of information learned from each link can also be done.

  https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=fiMjr3Rwdjs

  http://www.thestoryofchocolate.com/where/index.cfm?ItemNumber=3246&navItemNumber=3240

- Math: Create some word problems, convert measurements, or simply have students double or triple this recipe to practice their mathematical skills. You can even try making the recipe for Ziploc bag fudge in class for a tasty treat by following this recipe.

  Math: Students can participate in a taste test of different brands of chocolate (e.g., Hershey’s, Dove, Nestle etc.) to determine the class favorite. After the taste test students can vote for which type of chocolate they like best, survey and graph these results.

- Social Studies: After reading the novel students can create a map of Wonka’s chocolate factory. They might include a legend that tells which characters were fortunate enough to visit each room reflected on their map. This will help to reinforce the fate of each character in Dahl’s story.

  Social Studies: Students can research the different countries in which cacao beans grow and create a visual representation showing these areas.

  Social Studies: Students can research the evolution of history in the United States beginning during the time of colonization through present day. They can use the information learned to create a timeline.

Interdisciplinary Connections

How to Babysit an Orangutan

- Science: Read about the endangered orangutan and what the global community is doing to try and combat the orangutan from extinction. Use this information to create a brochure encouraging others to help with this issue. Not only will students be raising awareness about a world issue, but they will be able to practice their computer skills at the same time.

  http://wwf.panda.org/what_we_do/endangered_species/great_apes/orangutans/borneo_orangutan/

Blue Willow

- Social Studies: Look at pictures taken of the lives of migrant workers during the time of the Great Depression. Have an Accountable Talk discussion about what the photographer, Dorothy Lange, wants us to know through this pictorial history and how that information is related to what we learn about Janey in Blue Willow by Doris Gates.

  http://www.historyplace.com/unitedstates/lange/

Fire!

- Math: Get a look at key dates in the history of fire organized by month. Students can analyze the chart and use it to create many different graphs reflecting this information (showing the number of fires in each month, the number of fires each year, the different types of fires that occurred, etc.). These graphs can then be shared in a gallery walk.

  http://www.nfpa.org/research/reports-and-statistics/key-dates-in-fire-history

- Social Studies: Students can use the link above to locate on maps the different places that significant fires occurred.

- Science: Fires don’t only occur in homes, but also take place in nature. Weather can affect fires in the form of heat waves, droughts and climate changes. Here students can look at how wildfires start.

Enrichment

Seeking to build each learner’s capacity to do the following:

- Show a high degree of intellectual, creative and/or artistic ability and demonstrate this ability in multiple ways.
- Pose questions and exhibit sincere curiosity about principles and how things work.
- The ability to grasp concepts and make real world and cross-curricular connections.
- Generate theories and hypotheses and pursue methods of inquiry.
- Produce products that express insight, creativity, and excellence.
- Possess exceptional leadership skills.
- Evaluate vocabulary
- Elevate Text Complexity
- Inquiry based assignments and projects
- Independent student options
- Tiered/Multi-level activities
- Purposeful Learning Center

- Open-ended activities and projects
- Form and build on learning communities
- Providing pupils with experiences outside the ‘regular’ curriculum
- Altering the pace the student uses to cover regular curriculum in order to explore topics of interest in greater depth/breadth within their own grade level.
- A higher quality of work than the norm for the given age group.
- The promotion of a higher level of thinking and making connections.
- The inclusion of additional subject areas and/or activities (cross-curricular).
- Using supplementary materials in addition to the normal range of resources.
Assessments

Guided Reading Program

Guided reading is an instructional approach that involves a teacher working with a small group of students who demonstrate similar reading behaviors and can all read similar levels of texts.

Running Records

A running record is a tool used to assess students’ reading behaviors and comprehension. A benchmark book and a running record form, with text from the book, are used for assessment. Analyzing students’ performance will help teachers identify students’ reading levels, check their fluency, find weaknesses in comprehension and plan effective guided reading instruction.

Running records will be administered to students as part of the ESL unit assessments. Benchmark books, identified in the guided reading program, are to be utilized for assessment purposes only.
Guided Reading Program

Student should work towards displaying the following reading behaviors by the end of the school year.

- Reads rapidly, both orally and silently, while focusing on meaning.
- Actively acquires new vocabulary through reading.
- Sustains attention to a text read over many days, remembering details and revising interpretations as new events are encountered.
- Demonstrates interest in reading an extended text over a longer time period.
- Extends the text in various ways, including through research.
- Demonstrates interest and ability in interpreting shorter selections.
- Uses illustrations to help analyze text meaning.
- After reading silently, demonstrates understanding and sophistication in interpreting meaning.
- Uses comparison with other texts to assist interpretation.
- Goes beyond the text to interpret characters’ thoughts and feelings and to speculate on alternative meanings.
- Demonstrates all interpretative and analytic skills in writing.
One lesson every six day cycle using the passage associated with each lesson. The passage used for every lesson is located in section “E”. When using this passage follow the reading practices notated below.

Dahl, Roald. Charlie and the Chocolate Factory

In his classic novel, Dahl tells of Willy Wonka, a crazy chocolatier, who opens his chocolate factory doors for the first time to five lucky children who have randomly purchased the coveted chocolate bars containing the golden ticket. Besides a lifetime supply of chocolate, the children get a chance to tour the mysterious factory with their guide, Willy Wonka. Throughout their journey in Wonka’s factory the children encounter all sorts of silliness, as well as ethical dilemmas.

Dahl presents readers with four devious, self-serving children, Augustus Gloop, Veruca Salt, Violet Beauregarde, and Mike Teavee, while Charlie Bucket represents the contrast in character. The four other children’s selfish ways get them into hilariously odd situations, which have the result of determining their own doom, while Charlie’s characteristic integrity, honesty, and general sweetness afford him an opportunity to fulfill his dreams.
